How is Catholicism 'East of Eden'? Worldwide interest in all things Catholic mixes with consternation over recent disclosures from within the Church. Amidst doctrinal and moral confusion, most issues remain unanalyzed and unexplained, leaving both Catholics and non-Catholics wondering where the Roman Catholic Church stands. This book will leave no doubt about the truthful answer. In Catholicism: East of Eden, Richard Bennett has addressed the 21st century issues of Catholicism with candor and empathy.

Then Banner of Truth has published the third edition of Far from Rome, Near to God.

This book contains the moving testimonies of fifty priests who found their way, by the grace of God, out of the labyrinth of Roman Catholic theology and practice into the light of the gospel of Christ. But this is not a narrowly polemical work, nor is its relevance limited to the ongoing controversy between Rome and the churches of the Reformation. The love and concern felt by the former priests for those they left behind, and their fervent desire that they too should experience the joy and peace of salvation in Christ are seen throughout. The wider relevance of the experiences described will also be felt in many contexts remote from Roman Catholicism where human pride and presumption have erected rival sources of authority between people and the Word of God, so obscuring the way of salvation by grace alone, through faith alone, and in Christ alone.

Twenty Former Nuns Tell Their Stories of God's Amazing Grace

These women became nuns in Catholic convents as their finest means of serving God. The testimonies are 'inside stories', intensely personal, wonderfully down-to-earth. They ask and finally get the right answers to some of the same questions that you yourself might ask. The solid promise of Holy God in Scripture is, "And ye shall seek Me, and find Me, when ye search for Me with all your heart." This volume is modern testimony to that living promise. The book will be of avid interest to dedicated Catholics who often do not know the realities of convent life. Also it will be of great interest to lapsed Catholics who have become discouraged by the practice of a religious faith which has not answered his or her inner emptiness and confusion. Evangelicals who are being drawn more closely into 'dialogue' Catholics, unaware of the inner workings of that huge, seemingly mysterious system will also be keenly interested.

Then "On the Wings of Grace Alone" is a new book edited by Richard Bennett. Those who contributed to the writing of this book knew that the road to Rome was a road that led them away from Jesus Christ. It was a road that led to a lack of peace with God and finally would have led them to eternal damnation. These thirty former Catholics discovered that the Roman Catholic Church was teaching things that were completely opposite to what the Bible taught. The system of belief behind these shared experiences is revealed in many of their testimonies. These testimonies show wonderfully the grace and mercy of God like a light in a dark place.
